

Marc A. Maxwell, AIA

Principal, Maxwell
Architects, LLC; Director,
Maxwell Sedel Family
Foundation

Marc Maxwell is a licensed architect, with 40 years in practice and 35 years managing his own firm, specializing in supportive housing, corporate offices, and building renovation. Marc has spent his adult life contributing through active participation to community-based volunteer organizations in the LGBTQ+, Jewish, and environmental conservation communities, often contributing his professional expertise as a planner, entrepreneur, and architect, and his capacity for seeing and watching the “big picture.” Since 2022, Maxwell has served as the director of a charitable family foundation, utilizing his business acumen guided by his social and moral values. Partnered for 34 years, married for the last 10 of those years, Marc and his late husband were often pioneers, simply by living their lives in an open, engaged, and honest way.
