Methodology

Approach

Over the course of three months, Monitor Institute by Deloitte worked with 12 Next-Gen Workforce Providers identified by the Boston Foundation, seven employers, and 13 jobseekers to help elevate leading practices in Greater Boston’s workforce development landscape and understand critical gaps and opportunities. The selected workforce providers were highlighted for demonstrating the core competencies of a “next-gen” approach, as defined by Project Catapult: being market responsive, focusing on good jobs, lifting untapped talent, and investing in organizational capacity.
